Team YANTSU On The Move!

This last week was a big push for the team as we continue our planning, designing, and implementing wonderful ideas to make this year's show a massive success. With a show this large, we made a promise we would entertain you like never before, and that has continued as planned. With hosts from the United States, Canada, and the United Kingdom, you can expect a wide variety of styles, hosts, and holiday traditions throughout your Christmas Eve experience. Don't forget to set yourself a reminder to tune in to the 10th annual show because a show this big does not happen often. You won't want to miss the biggest event of the year! There will be plenty of holiday cheer to make the entire family happy.

Don't forget to let us know your favorite Christmas Eve memories from the last ten years on our social media pages. You just might get featured by our social media team: Instagram, Facebook, and Twitter

Don't forget to check out our official website too! That's where we will be posting all our fun content leading up to our big day on December 24, 2018!

Team YANTSU Member Spotlight

On the newsletter this week, we take a close look at longtime Team YANTSU member Nick Tay! Nick joined Team YANTSU in 2012. He has been tracking since he was young and wanted to be a part of something bigger. Nick has served as Head of Team YANTSU, been on the team's Board of Directors, and now serves as an Advisor to the board. Nick's passion for tracking has taken him in many directions during his time with the team including audio production, engineering, and an interest in aviation. Nick is currently attending Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University in Daytona Beach, Florida where he is working towards a BS in Aeronautical Engineering. Nick has always been a hands-on kind of guy, so he enjoys woodworking and playing multiple instruments in his spare time. You can catch him behind-the-scenes in all his holiday glory on December 24. Come say hi to Nick!

United States Thanksgiving November 22, 2018

With the Thanksgiving holiday next week, we would like to wish all of you a very safe and happy Thanksgiving if you are in the United States. Enjoy food, faith, friends, and family on this very special holiday. There will be no official recipe dish this week, so check back next newsletter issue for more holiday food-filled fun.

Calling All Santa Trackers!

Our entirely revamped website for the 2018 tracking season is OPEN! You can check it out right now at www.santatracking.net to see all of the brand new pages and features on our website. Please note that not every page is fully functional as of yet, and will be ready to go in the coming weeks. A lot of hard work has been put into this project and we truly hope you enjoy the dedication we have put into making your website experience a lot of fun for the 2018 Tracking Season.

Currently, our Mailroom, Writer's Room, Location Tracker, and Tracking Hub buildings will continue to be developed in the coming weeks, so please have patience and check back soon. Thank you!
