

Team YANTSU Newsletter

October 19, 2013

Synopsis

Team YANTSU is gearing up for a busy October with training already starting this weekend with the Facebook camp led by Justin and the Weebly camp with Patric. New members: make sure you attend as many of the camps this tracking season to prepare yourself for this December. You will learn quickly that Team YANTSU is busiest during the months of November and December. We would like to welcome all of our new Team YANTSU members Jason, Luke H, and William this year and cannot wait to see what potential they bring this year. Our first major meeting will take place on Saturday, October 26, 2013 on the Team YANTSU Facebook chat, so make sure all of you attend and get your say in whatever we decide.

A lot is planned and a NORAD Tracks Santa trailer may be released today, tomorrow, or over the next week or two for all we know. Keep a close eye on this developing story.

Thanks,
Patric

The Member of the Week

This week our featured members are Luke Dillon and Jacob Dillon! Luke works hard on the Team YANTSU Twitter to tweet to our fans on Santa's location throughout Christmas Eve and Jacob helps him out as a Team YANTSU Honorary Member. Thanks for your support!

We will post a link hopefully in the next issue or two to the brand new NORAD Tracks Santa 2013 trailer.

Updates from next meeting will be posted next weekend.

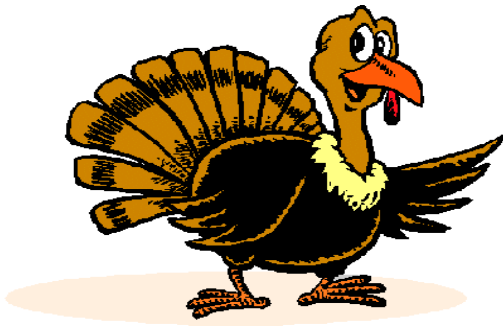

December 24

December 24 is now officially 65 days away! We at Team YANTSU are super excited as we await some more confirmations from NORAD into what we can expect this year and also what we are allowed to reveal after December 1, 2013 alongside the NORAD Tracks Santa website reveal. This year we are going to make sure all the information is accurate and you get top notch news regarding this as we learn more. At this time, Team YANTSU is choosing our new hosting site and that will be discussed this Saturday at our Team YANTSU meeting. Make sure you stay up-to-date with everything on our social media and Weebly as it becomes available to you.

Team YANTSU Facts is taking a break and we will start posting them as soon as we come up with new facts. Thanks for your patience!

We hope all of our Canadian members and fans had a great Thanksgiving!
